

CALDWELL GETS DATES MIXED IN DUCE MYSTERY

Great Affidavit-Maker Gets Tangled When Document Contradicts Testimony.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—The dimly Mary-Jones Police Court had almost the appearance of a theatre to-day when the hearing of testimony was resumed in the proceeding brought by George Holladay Duce, grandson of the late Thomas Charles Duce, against Herbert Duce, who is charged with perjury by the former in stating that he saw the body of his father, Thomas Charles Duce, lying in a coffin on Dec. 23, 1884, and that he attended the funeral, the case being an outcome of the contest for the Duke of Portland's estate.

Brightly attired persons in doth and frock-coated men filled the best seats, while the rest of the courtroom was crowded to suffocation.

Morose Avory, for the defense, continued his searching cross-examination of Herbert C. Caldwell, of Staten Island, New York, who got tangled up with dates. He swore he was married in Ireland after returning from India in 1884, while Mr. Avory produced a certificate showing his ceremony occurred in 1881.

Mr. Caldwell, who was in the witness box all day long, swore that Thomas Charles Duce did not die in December, as alleged by the defendant.

However, the developments in court today were not interesting. The cross-examination of the witness by Mr. Avory was confined to pinning him down to specific statements, which the defense evidently hopes to prove could not be true, thus disproving the entire story told by Mr. Caldwell.

At the close of the day's proceedings the case was again adjourned for a week.

BLAZE WIPES OUT MARCONI STATION AT SIASCONSET

Wireless Link Kept Ocean Steamers in Touch with the Shore.

Special to The Evening World.—NANTUCKET, Mass., Nov. 15.—The Marconi wireless station at Siasconset was destroyed by fire early to-day and communication between ships and the land will be impossible for several weeks, it is expected.

The station was the first established on this side of the ocean for commercial purposes, its principal use being for reporting vessels as they approached the American coast. When the service was first put in its sphere extended only to the Nantucket Shoals Lightship, forty-four miles to the southeast.

This service was maintained until two years ago, when the government established a plant on the lightship with Newport as the shore end. Since then the station used to be used for communication directly with incoming or outgoing steamers, the greatest speaking distance being about 100 miles. The same company maintains a station at South Wellfleet, on Cape Cod.

The Siasconset station has been of great value in picking up steamers after they lost Cape Race and Cape Sable. A large amount of commercial and press business was carried on through the station.

At the New York offices of the Marconi system it was said that the Cape Cod receiving station will probably be completed and sufficient to handle the business of the burned station, in addition to its own.

Helped Some.
(From the Chicago Journal.)
"Did you break this window, Charlie?"
"Well, I helped."

"Helped? How helped?"
"It was that broke it—but I threw the ball."

COLER "GAVE" CITY STREET TO B. R. T.

President McGowan Asks by What Right Permit Was Granted.

At the meeting of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to-day when the application for a franchise by the Brooklyn and Queens County Suburban Railroad Company to construct a trolley road on Metropolitan avenue, in Jamaica, came up, through President Coler of Brooklyn, objected to a delay.

"We ought not to be continually postponing the settlement of franchise. Either we ought to grant or refuse them, but to be continually postponing is getting tiresome and against the city's interests." The matter was referred to the Chief Engineer.

Then came the application of the Brooklyn City Railroad Company to construct a new track under Bridge property, connecting Fulton and Washington streets.

"This is violating the city's property, and it should not be allowed," angrily said Mr. McGowan.

"I am responsible for this. I gave the permit," said Mr. Coler.

"But what right have you to grant a permit without the granting of a franchise?" asked McGowan.

"Well, I did it, and I assume all the responsibility," said Mr. Coler.

It ought to be allowed," said Comptroller Meix. "Otherwise it would work a hardship."

"I don't care what hardship it does, the railroad has no right to steal the tracks," said Mr. McGowan.

By a vote of 12 to 4 Mr. McGowan's motion to have the railroad notified to show cause for the spur and to apply for a franchise was passed.

To Pay for Snow Removal.
On the Comptroller's resolution the contract for the removal of snow and ice by the Street-Cleaning Commission was approved.

Does this mean that the payment is to be made by the Board? asked Mr. Coler.

"Yes," answered the Comptroller. "Then I will approve of it. For two years I have tried to urge that method and every time I did I was frowned down."

When the question of recommending the issuance of $5000 to pay the expenses of the Attorney General's Commission came up the chairman, Dr.

"LITTLE MOTHER" FATALLY BURNED

Twelve-Year-Old Girl's Clothing Catches Fire While Cooking.

When Mamie Sweeney's mother was taken to the Lying-In Hospital three weeks ago there was speculation in the Sweeney household as to who would take care of Baby "Chick," dress its little white and red dress and send him to school and get Papa Sweeney's breakfast when he left home to drive his truck at 6 o'clock in the morning. The Sweeney home is on the top floor of a tenement at No. 12 Perry street.

The whole matter was speedily adjusted by the announcement by twelve-year-old Mamie that she would be the little mother in the absence of the real one. It should be said right here that the Sweeney home has been conducted in apple-pie order for the last three weeks.

Mamie fixed her father's breakfast as usual this morning. Some time later she was in the kitchen, heard a scream, rushed to the door and saw her mother lying on the floor, her dress on fire, and on the wall a fire in flames. She rushed to her mother's side and tried to smother the flames with her hands. The fire was too strong for her and she fled to her room, where she locked the door and hid under the bed. When the firemen came they found her there, and she was taken to the hospital, where she died.

WANTS CONFERENCE FOR FINANCIAL PEACE.

VIENNA, Nov. 15.—Sinnor Luzzatti, president of the Italian Chamber of Deputies, has written an article, which the Free Press will publish to-day under the caption "An International Peace Conference Against Warfare for Gold."

Luzzatti suggests that a conference of competent representatives be called to study means by which international crises may be avoided. He thinks that Austria and Italy should take the initiative in this matter.

All mothers recognize the term by the lassitude, weakness, loss of appetite, inclination to sleep, heavy breathing, and lack of interest shown by baby. These are the symptoms of sickness. It may be fever, congestion, worms, croup, diphtheria, or scarlatina. Do not lose a minute. Give the child Castoria. It will start the digestive organs into operation, open the pores of the skin, carry off the foetid matter, and drive away the threatened sickness.
